DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Topchiashvili 6010983.

See the way the art was previously applied. Applicant takes issue with the Official Notice that Topchiashvili powders are non-ferromagnetic. The powders do not have any iron in them. Therefore they are not ferromagnetic. See Grant and Hackh , page 232. Ferromagnetism is magnetism due solely to magnetic iron. Any material that does not have iron cannot have magnetism that is due to iron.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 1731

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Topchiashvili 6010983.

See prior Office action.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Topchiashvili 6010983 as applied to claim 2 above, and further in view of Wei 5518660.

See prior Office action.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Topchiashvili 6010983 as applied to claim 2 above, and further in view of Takagi 4996177.

See prior Office action.

Claims 1-3 and 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morita 4937214.

See prior Office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 20 April 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

As to Applicant's argument that Topshiashvili's powder is non-ferromagnetic – this appears to be an assertion with no basis or evidence to support it.

From MPEP 2145 Consideration of Applicant's Rebuttal Arguments

I. ARGUMENT DOES NOT REPLACE EVIDENCE WHERE EVIDENCE IS NECESSARY

Attorney argument is not evidence unless it is an admission, in which case, an examiner may use the admission in making a rejection. See MPEP § 2129 and § 2144.03 for a discussion of admissions as prior art.

The arguments of counsel cannot take the place of evidence in the record. In re Schulze, 346 F.2d 600, 602, 145 USPQ 716, 718 (CCPA 1965); In re Geisler, 116 F.3d 1465, 43 USPQ2d 1362 (Fed. Cir. 1997) ("An assertion of what seems to follow from common experience is just attorney argument and not the kind of factual evidence that is required to rebut a prima facie case of obviousness." See MPEP § 716.01(c) for examples of attorney statements which are not evidence and which must be supported by an appropriate affidavit or declaration.

Whereas Applicant refers to magnetic susceptibility, nonmagnetic materials, calculations, etc., there is no explanation as to how this all relates to a showing that Topshiashvili's powder is ferromagnetic. Examiner's best guess is that Applicant is using some specialized definition for ferromagnetic and/or non-ferromagnetic.

Examiner could find no definition in the specification that would exclude Topshiashvili's powder. Given the definition from Grant and Hackh, it is clear that Topshiashvili's powder is inherently and immediately recognized to be non-ferromagnetic.

It is noted that applicant arguments appear to be based on a superconducting properties. It is noted that such properties do not exist during Topshiashvili's processing steps. Rather they occur only when the ceramics are reduced to cold temperatures.

It is also argued that Morita's strontium ferrite is ferromagnetic. This is largely irrelevant. The rejection is based on Morita's alumina. The rejection does not suggest that strontium ferrite is non-ferromagnetic. The rejection does not suggest that all of Morita's embodiments read on applicant's claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
